

Structured Settlements

Bridging the Gap and Helping You Reach Settlement

As an alternative to a lump sum settlement payment to claimants/plaintiffs, structured settlements utilize specialized annuities to deliver injured parties a secure future stream of payments.

Structured settlements are widely used to fund settlements in personal injury, wrongful death, and workers' compensation claims and provide periodic payments to injured parties. Types include future medical, indemnity, and wage loss. In addition, annuities can be used to fund non-Medicare covered expenses (such as home healthcare and transportation costs).

Structured settlement annuities are offered through A-rated (or higher) life insurance companies and can be the key to bridging the gap and reaching settlement.

How Can Structured Settlement Annuities Help You?

A structured settlement can help bridge the gap from settlement authority to claimant's demand. For injured individuals, a structured settlement provides a tax-free series of payments that can be customized to meet specific medical and financial needs. We can also structure all, or a portion of, attorney's fees.
